A WONDERFUL LIGHT.
It Penetrates Wood and Even Exposed Man's Interior.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(Special Dispatch.) The Sun's London correspondent says that the noise of war alarms should not distract attention from the marvelous triumph of science which is reported from Vienna. It is announced that Prof. Routgen of Wurzburg University has discovered a light which, for the purposes of photography, will penetrate wood, flesh, or almost any other organic substance. The professor has succeeded in photographing hidden metals with a cloth thrown over the camera. The rays penetrated not only the wooden case containing the metals, but the fabric in front of the negative. The professor is already using his discovery to photograph broken limbs and bullets in human bodies.

BOLLIN'S SHORTAGE.
Reported to Exceed One Hundred and Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE).
OMAHA, Jan. 6.—The reports of the experts submitted to the City Council tonight show that the entire defalcation of ex-City Treasurer Henry Bollin amounts to more than $115,000. An impression has been circulated that the additional shortage of $77,000, which was only made public the other day, represents simply an error in book-keeping. The report shows that this amount must be added to the $35,000 shortage previously disclosed.

A member of the Finance Committee admitted today that this additional defalcation had been known to the experts and the members of the committee for between two and three months. Nevertheless the secret was guarded from the public until exposed by the Omaha Bee. No plan to force an explanation from Bollin has been made.

DIED A-BORNIN'

That Havana News is No Good.

No Probability of an Attack on the Capitol.

Insurgents Reported to Have Been Licked.

Another Rumor of the Campos Resignation King—Guira Melena Completely Destroyed—The Loyalists Terrorized.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE).
BOSTON, Jan. 6.—The Traveler has received the following dispatch: "BATABANO (Cuba), Jan. 6.—At 10:30 this morning the cable operator here received the following dispatch: 'Cubans have captured the city (Havana) More Castle alone holds out. Gen. Campos.'"

"Here the dispatch abruptly ends, as cable communication between Havana and this point was cut off.

THE REPUTATION.
No Fight at Havana and No Likelihood of One.

HAVANA, Jan. 6.—(By South American Cable.) The Spanish officials assert that there is no probability of a fight in the near future between the Spanish troops and the insurgents now around Havana. The captain-general is engaged in bringing westward all the troops available, and if this movement is completed it is not thought that the attacks will be commenced.

The insurgents, according to advices received from the outlying districts of Havana, are now moving westward in the province of Pinar del Rio, although a number of them are still in this vicinity. At Managua, about twelve miles from here, the insurgents are reported to be in force under one of the Nunez brothers, and Bermudez and the waterworks at Vento, which supply the city, are still threatened. A strong force of insurgents is reported moving northward from Salud and Alquizar.

Reinforcements of Spanish are expected shortly at Batabano. They are being drafted there from the province of Santiago de Cuba.

Little news is received in this city regarding the movement of either the Spanish or Cuban forces, the lines of communication being cut in every direction out of Havana. Enough is reported from points in the province of Pinar del Rio, however, to show that the insurgents' columns have covered a wide territory in that province, and are destroying the sugar-cane and damaging the tobacco crop. At Cabanas, a seaport town of considerable importance, the insurgents have destroyed the lighthouse.

The destruction of Guira Melena, the burning of which was reported in these dispatches, seem to have been complete. It is an important village of 4000, situated in a fertile district. The report from there said the insurgents plundered the church, the business houses, stores and private residences and then destroyed them entirely. They are also said to have killed the mayor and a prominent merchant of the place. Similar tales came from other towns in the route of the insurgents' march.

The mayor of the village of San Felipe, it is said, was intent upon offering resistance to the invasion of his town by the insurgents. The mayor's tenacity caused much surprise to Gomez and his followers, who set about to burn the village. The citizens went to the mayor with a request that he offer no resistance to Gomez and thereupon, says the report, he offered no resistance.

The plantations of Salvador, Julia, San Augustine, Santa Teresa, Mercedita, Mora and Mirosa have been burned.

Incoming trains from the south are bringing in vast throngs of refugees, men, women and children, some of whom have been burned out of house and home. The infusion of panic-stricken people into the city spreads the general fear. Last night a torpedo was exploded in front of the Corona cigar manufactory in the city. No one was hurt and the fire that resulted was extinguished without much damage, but the incident has a sinister look and is a tangible expression of a thing that even the most hopeful citizens fear, and that is an outbreak in the city of disaffected elements, in case the insurgents came to the city.

There has been a massing of forces immediately west and southwest of Havana today. There is some faint attempt to hold out a claim that this is designed as a strategic movement to hold the insurgents in Pinar del Rio as in a trap, as was claimed would be done when the insurgents broke through the line into Santa Clara and again into Matanzas, but there is no robust idea in the minds of the most hopeful that Gomez will not be able to lead his forces out of the province of Pinar del Rio were he so minded, or when any peril develops there for his army. It is perfectly well understood that the troops taking position in the northwest portion of the province are designed to protect Havana and to repel a possible attack by the

ANOTHER PITEOUS APPEAL.

Insurgent forces now over-running Pinar del Rio.

Beyond the fact of the destroying of the lighthouse at Cabanas there has been little additional news of the course taken by the insurgents in their advance into Pinar del Rio.

Loud disclaimers are being uttered by the authorities that they have any fear for the welfare of the city. It is pointed out that the city is well-fortified, and being protected by the strong fortress Moro, and being garrisoned by the Cuban troops, Alares, Santa Clara and Reina troops, with heavy artillery and by 2000 volunteers with 40,000 more loyal citizens in the city willing to defend the city.

With these forces at command the authorities express the opinion with great confidence that it would be impossible for the insurgents to capture the city unless they were provided with siege artillery. It is claimed that only small bands of insurgents are engaged in the operations under Gomez and that they are still only in small towns.

The main force of the insurgent army is now in the province of Pinar del Rio, the advance guard being at Pastoral and at Jaco Taco. A small band is reported at Hoto Colorado and at Salud. The opinion here is that the movement of the insurgents is directed against the country districts and, although preparations have been made here against a possible surprise, there is no present fear of an attack.

A statement credited to Dr. Artedias is pronounced untrue.

THE NEWS NOT CONFIRMED.
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—There has been no confirmation of the statement contained in the foregoing dispatch that Havana has been captured.

DISPATCH FROM GOMEZ.
KEY WEST, Jan. 6.—Jesús Petuna, the well-known Cuban patriot, received a cipher dispatch from Gen. Gomez this morning declaring that the Spaniards were hemmed in on all sides, and before nightfall Havana would be in possession of the patriots' troops.

UNFAVORABLE NEWS.
BARCELONA, Jan. 6.—News most unfavorable to the Spanish government has been received from Cuba. It is understood that the insurgent forces are pressing around Havana.

AN ALLEGED DEFEAT.
MADRID, Jan. 6.—An official dispatch received here from Havana says that the march westward of the insurgents has been arrested by Gen. Navarro, who has defeated them. The Cuban news recently received here has caused much excitement, and it is believed that further reinforcements will be dispatched to Cuba. The military authorities severely criticize Capt. Gen. Campos for his conduct of the campaign, but the government appears determined to maintain him in command of the Spanish forces in Cuba.

CAMPOS'S RESIGNATION AGAIN REPORTED.
MADRID, Jan. 6.—El Heraldo announces that Martinez de Campos, captain-general of the forces in Cuba and Governor-General of the island, has resigned.

OFFICIALLY DENIED.
LONDON, Jan. 7.—A dispatch to the Times from Madrid says that the report that Capt. Gen. Campos has resigned is denied in official circles.

DON DICKINSON'S DISPATCH.
DETROIT (Mich.), Jan. 6.—Hon. Don M. Dickinson stated tonight that he had received a dispatch to the effect that the insurgents were actually entering the city of Havana. Mr. Dickinson, however, declined to state the sender's name or the precise contents of the message.

Commenting on the fact that the Cubans are evidently about to achieve their independence unaided, Mr. Dickinson said: "Every member of Congress should bow his head in shame that no steps were taken toward recognizing the state of war that has existed. The government of free Cuba must be republican in form. It is impossible in the light of the refusal of Congress to act, to say exactly what will be the relation of the United States to the new government. They owe us nothing; we have done them no service."

PALMA BELIEVES IT.
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—When Tamara Estrada Palma was told of the report that Havana might be in the hands of the insurgents he said: "It is delightful, but not surprising. I have known for some weeks that it was the intention of Gomez to mass his forces on Havana, and I am sure he has done so and won. Though I have heard nothing official in regard to the patriot occupation of Havana, I am sure the report is true."

Senor Balsamo, the Spanish Consul, said he believed the whole story to be false.

"How could a gang of half-dressed rowdies overcome the great army of Spain?" he asked. "Campos is too old a soldier to allow his water supply to be cut off."

A REGULAR PICNIC.
If Havana is not "Taken" It Is "Rattled."

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES).
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(Special Dispatch.) The Journal's cable from Havana says: "The insurgent armies are within sight of Havana, and the firing of muskets and cannon is plainly heard in the eastern suburbs. The inhabitants were terror-stricken to night by the explosion of two bombs in the heart of the city. Trains that can be gotten into the city on the few railroads that have not yet been destroyed by the patriots are loaded with refugees from the surrounding cities and villages. Hundreds of field hands also have arrived in Havana with their families. Some of these men say they could see the insurgents blow up the railroad bridge immediately after the train had crossed within a few miles from the city. Hundreds of families in the suburbs and in the city have abandoned their homes and are crowding the quay, watching with blanched and eager faces for steamers to take them away from the island. All sorts of craft are being utilized by the refugees, who offer their last pesos, as long as the owner is willing to keep them from the shore. Steamers which have cleared today are crowded to their utmost capacity with fleeing passengers."

"All the plantations in the vicinity of Havana have suspended grinding with the exception of the Toledo cane-fields. This, and the advance of the insurgents, has caused an alarming exodus of families to Mariato, and the larger seaports. A regular panic prevails in the Cuban capital and suburbs. Couriers are rushing back and forth from official headquarters, and the streets are filled with excited groups discussing the situation. There is also activity among the military. Several columns of troops have left here today, who have been dispatched to head off the advance of the insurgent armies, and mounted cavalry continues to scurry around the walls of the city, evidently looking for scouts and spies. Everybody feels that the black clouds which have been hanging ominously over the fated island are now ready to burst, and a bloody conflict is imminent."

Shot His Neighbor.
INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 6.—Patrick Galvin, supposed to be partially insane, began to shoot at neighbors in Delmas street this afternoon. The first bullet fatally injured Samuel Paul. He then shot Mrs. W. B. Murphy, perhaps fatally. Murphy shot Galvin dead. The families quarreled a year ago, and the sudden renewal of the quarrel is supposed to have driven Galvin into a frenzy.

MOCK HEROICS.

Little Tin "Thunderer" on Wheels.

A Lot of Needless Bluster About Fighting.

Its Real Ideas Manifest in a Financial Article.

Henry Norman Has a Talk with Mr. Cleveland's Mouthpiece—Balfour Will Make a Statement—Nine Able Monitors.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE).
LONDON, Jan. 7.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Times, in an editorial this morning, reminds the United States that "whether we have trouble in Europe and Africa or not, we will not yield on the Venezuelan question. We have insulted nobody, but if we are compelled to fight we shall be ready to guard what is worth fighting for."

The writer of the financial article in the Times thinks that the rejection of the Morgan syndicate's offer will have grave consequences, and that a popular loan will be mainly subscribed by gold obtained from the treasury.

"The result will be," says the Times, "that we shall probably see a real premium which will rapidly empty the treasury."

NORMAN DRINKS FROM GROVER'S MOUTHPIECE.
LONDON, Jan. 7.—Henry Norman, the special commissioner of the Daily Chronicle, cables his paper from Washington as follows:

"The tide of opinion regarding England seems to be distinctly turning, owing, I believe, to the Chronicle's utterances and to England's anxious foreign crisis. Many utterances of the American press prove the truth of my assertions that all the best American opinion is earnestly desirous of a friendly settlement. Today I had a conversation on this subject with Secretary Gray of Delaware, an intimate and devoted friend of Mr. Cleveland, a man who is commonly regarded as the President's special mouthpiece in the Senate and a prominent member of the Foreign Relations Committee. Senator Gray said:

"I don't think the President made, or intends to make, a threat toward the British government in his message, but he did mean to express in the strongest language possible his own feeling and what I believe to be the feeling of all the people of this country regarding the supposed British refusal of arbitration in the Venezuelan matter, except with reference to an arbitrary line made up by the British government itself. I know there is sincere regret and dismay among all right-minded people that a more conciliatory disposition was not accepted by Lord Salisbury in regard to the general principle of arbitration. If the British government should show a kindly disposition toward this principle, I believe it would be greatly welcomed by the people of this country."

"So far as there being any loss of prestige to the British government in this course, it would make me more hopeful that the great arbitration will find expression in a convention between the two countries covering all questions that might arise. The opportunity is a golden one to secure American good will. Can England afford to lose it? If Lord Salisbury takes no steps and sees no way, then let him reflect that his attitude is identical with that that one which lost Great Britain her colonies more than a century ago. The American people are listening for some word from him. The cost of it would be slight and the gain colossal."

BALFOUR TO SAY SOMETHING.
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—A dispatch to the Journal from London says: "Your correspondent has received a courteous note from Balfour, who, next to Salisbury, is the most important member of the Cabinet. In this note, while deploring that his position as minister forbids him from communicating directly on the Venezuelan subject with any newspapers, he conveys the interesting and exclusive intelligence that he is considering an early opportunity for making a public pronouncement on the whole subject. Balfour has won the confidence of both Liberals and Tories, as well as of his own party, in a remarkable degree. What position he will take is difficult to conjecture, but it is known that though he is bold and confident on the lines of bold and settled policy, he is very tactful in navigating 'twisted currents.'"

NINE NAVAL STAND-BYS.
PHILADELPHIA (Pa.), Jan. 6.—Acting under instructions from the Navy Department, a board of naval officers has been examining the nine monitors lying at the League Island Navy-yard with the view of ascertaining their exact condition. The vessels of war examined are the Nahant, Jason, Canonicus, Mahopac, Manhattan, Wyandotte, Montauk, Catskill and Lehigh. The exact nature of the report which the board will make to the Secretary of the Navy cannot be ascertained, but it is understood that all of the boats can be put in first-class fighting trim at a moderate cost within a short time.

How Marlborough Paid Up.
LONDON, Jan. 6.—In view of the numerous mis-statements which have been made with reference to the improvements made at the Duke of Marlborough's home, the Duke of Marlborough, the duke authorizes the publication of the report of the chartered accountant, showing that the entire improvements had been paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the Sunderland Library and the portion of the Blenheim pictures, furniture and china, to which the present duke became entitled at his majority, his father being only entitled to the income from the capital sum.

New England's Cold Snap.
BOSTON, Jan. 6.—Unusually cold weather prevails throughout the New England States. Just before dawn this morning the thermometer registered 10 deg. below zero in this city, the coldest since 1885.

THE STATE OF UTAH

An Imposing Installation of the New Administration.

Gov. West and His Officials Take Up the Reins.

Salt Lake City in Holiday Attire. Old Pioneers and Thousands of Others Flock to the Scene. Inaugural Address.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SALT LAKE, (Utah), Jan. 6.—Inaugural day has been celebrated as no other in the history of Utah. The city was thronged with visitors from all sides, and, with the thousands of home people, made locomotion high impossible through the public thoroughfares. The great procession, under the direction of Grand Marshal Burton and aides, presented a magnificent spectacle as it wound its way to the Tabernacle, which was reached at noon, and which had crowded within its portals in one single day more people than have ever passed through its portals in one single day before.

The decorations of the Tabernacle were most lavish and well chosen. Spread out beneath the great central dome, the floor was carpeted with blue and red, and the walls were hung with the flags of the nation and of the state. The ceiling was decorated with the stars and stripes of the American flag. The great American eagle, with its wings spread, was the central feature of the decorations. The eagle was made of burlap, and was hung from the ceiling by a system of pulleys. The eagle was surrounded by a wreath of olive and oak branches. The eagle was flanked by two figures, one on each side, representing the states of the Union. The eagle was the work of a local artist, and was the pride of the city.

On the speakers' stands were many prominent citizens, among them the following: President Woodruff, Governor Richards, Chief Justice Wells, and many others. Governor Richards, in his inaugural address, spoke of the great honor that the state of Utah had conferred upon him in selecting him to the office. He spoke of the great future that lay before the state, and of the great responsibilities that he had accepted. He spoke of the great love and loyalty of the people of Utah, and of the great confidence that they had placed in him. He spoke of the great future that lay before the state, and of the great responsibilities that he had accepted.

Acting Governor Richards announced that President Woodruff was to have the opening prayer, but he was unable to do so because of illness. He then announced that he would read the proclamation of the President, which was signed by Woodruff. The proclamation was read by the Governor, and it declared that the state of Utah was now a part of the United States. The proclamation was read in a loud voice, and it was heard by all who were present.

After the proclamation was read, the Governor gave the inaugural address. He spoke of the great honor that the state of Utah had conferred upon him in selecting him to the office. Sugar Producers and Their Bounty Claims.

A World Symposium on the Bond Proposition.

Yesterday's Proceedings in the House—A Senatorial Caucus. The Finance Committee. Pacific Railroads.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, (D. C.), Jan. 6.—(Special Dispatch.) The sugar producers do not feel that the opinion of Justice Harlan delivered today in the case of the New York war-claims against the government has any bearing upon the pending bounty cases. This opinion affirms the validity of section 1063 of the Revised Statutes, known as the Bowman Act, under which it will be remembered that Comptroller of the Currency was ordered to refund the Oxnard claim to the Court of Claims.

The Comptroller's decision is that the bounty provision in the act of 1894 had no constitutional validity, but the original McKinley bond report, but, apart from that, however any claim made against the Executive Department involved disputed facts or controverted questions of law, Congress had provided means of relief to the executive officer who considered the question. Last year when there was a financial crisis in the United States, we made an offer for a 3-per-cent gold loan, and the people of the United States have done us the honor of asking our opinion, we must tell you frankly that the situation at present is chiefly caused by the political crisis and as soon as the American and English governments have agreed upon a settlement of the issue, the financial strain will be considerably relaxed, if it does not altogether disappear.

A SUBSTITUTE BOND BILL.—The Senate Finance Committee has decided to report as a Senate substitute on the House Bond Bill the measure agreed upon by the silver majority in the Senate. The bill provides for the issue of silver bonds in the amount of $100,000,000, and it provides for the redemption of the bonds by the issue of gold bonds. The bill is expected to be reported to the Senate tomorrow.

IN EXTRA SESSION.—SALT LAKE (Utah), Jan. 6.—Pursuant to the proclamation of Gov. Wells, the Legislature convened in extra session at 3 o'clock this evening. After organizing by the election of the casual nominees of the Republican party, the House took up the consideration of the bill for the election of a Senator for the United States Senatorial district of Utah, which was introduced by Chief Justice Wells. The bill was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

STATE SCHOOLBOOKS.—SALT LAKE (Utah), Jan. 6.—The State Board of Education held a meeting this afternoon when Secretary of State Richards submitted some statistics to show that the schoolbooks of the State had been sold far below their actual cost. While the cost to the State had been heavy, he said, it would be much lighter if the books were sold at their actual cost. The board resolved to investigate the matter of the schoolbooks, and to report to the Governor.

GAS WENT OFF.—The Renfrost Building at Chicago Violently Shaken. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—With a shock which seemed to its 300 frightened inmates to fairly lift the building from its foundations and which was felt a mile away, a natural gas explosion last night in the basement of the Renfrost building at Fifty-second street and Cottage Grove avenue, injuring two persons, and causing a fire which burned out of control for some time. The gas had leaked from a loose joint in the two-inch gas pipe, and it was ignited by the light of Assistant Engineer Mills, who was hunting for escaping gas.

The sugar producers do not feel that the opinion of Justice Harlan delivered today in the case of the New York war-claims against the government has any bearing upon the pending bounty cases. This opinion affirms the validity of section 1063 of the Revised Statutes, known as the Bowman Act, under which it will be remembered that Comptroller of the Currency was ordered to refund the Oxnard claim to the Court of Claims.

The Comptroller's decision is that the bounty provision in the act of 1894 had no constitutional validity, but the original McKinley bond report, but, apart from that, however any claim made against the Executive Department involved disputed facts or controverted questions of law, Congress had provided means of relief to the executive officer who considered the question. Last year when there was a financial crisis in the United States, we made an offer for a 3-per-cent gold loan, and the people of the United States have done us the honor of asking our opinion, we must tell you frankly that the situation at present is chiefly caused by the political crisis and as soon as the American and English governments have agreed upon a settlement of the issue, the financial strain will be considerably relaxed, if it does not altogether disappear.

While the cost to the State had been heavy, he said, it would be much lighter if the books were sold at their actual cost. The board resolved to investigate the matter of the schoolbooks, and to report to the Governor.

The trouble arises over the right of the white men to graze stock on the public lands. No serious difficulty is apprehended.

MISS OVERMAN'S CAREER.

Anonymous Letters Giving Her an Unpleasant Hint.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The case of Rev. C. O. Davidson, who is charged by the minister with extortion, has now reached the stage of anonymous letters. Today Mrs. Davidson's attorney received an unsigned letter from Seattle, purporting to be from a person well acquainted with Miss Matie Overman. A detailed account of Miss Overman's doings in Sound cities was contained in the letter.

Mrs. Davidson stated today in an interview that the strongest testimony against Dr. Brown had not yet been made public, but would tell it on the stand. She says that her forthcoming revelations will leave Dr. Brown without a friend and ruin him out of the ministry. She says the real reason why he forced her to give a receipt for $500 has not yet been guessed at. Mrs. Davidson says she is perfectly contented with her life in prison. She spends her time reading her Bible and in quoting the scriptures to anyone who will listen to her.

The reported resignation of Dr. Brown is the sole topic of conversation among his parishioners. His case is now said to be under consideration by the deacons, who have held several meetings during the past few days and have admitted discussion of the church scandal, although the deacons refuse to reveal the result of their deliberations. The fact that Dr. Brown consents to harbor Miss Overman under his roof has caused much unfavorable comment, particularly since the publication of the diary of the woman who has been in several Sound cities. Neither Dr. Brown nor Miss Overman will be interviewed. Both remained in strict seclusion yesterday. Mrs. Davidson's household leaving their residence during Sunday.

The character of the cross-examination to which Dr. Brown was subjected by Mrs. Davidson's attorney in the Police Court on Saturday has caused a certain amount of reaction in his favor.

CUT OFF THE WATER.

The Entire Sweetwater System Has Been Tied Up.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 6.—The water of the entire Sweetwater system, owned by the San Diego Land & Town Company and used to irrigate 4000 acres of land in Chula Vista, Otay, National City and other places, was cut off today and not a drop of flowing water from the pipes. This action on the part of the company is the result of an old quarrel with ranchers who use the water. Last summer the company gave notice that the water rates of $5.00 per acre would be doubled. The ranchers took steps to oppose the increase, whereupon the company decided to postpone the increase in rate till the first of the present month. That date, however, found the ranchers as firmly opposed to the increase as ever, and as a result the company today cut off the water as stated above.

The company's action is understood to have been to apply to the Federal Court there for an injunction restraining the ranchers from using the water in the State courts to have the increased rate declared illegal. The affair has created much excitement.

NEVADA BANK SWINDLE.

A Twelve-dollar Draft Raised to Twelve Thousand Dollars.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—By one of the most clever forgeries that has ever been done in this city, the Nevada Bank was swindled out of $20,000 about three weeks ago by a man who is known as A. H. Holmes and is a H. Dean. So clever, indeed, was the work done that the fraud has only just been discovered. The matter has been reported to the police and detectives are now trying to find some trace of the swindler.

The money was obtained by raising a $12 draft to $22,000. Holmes drew $20,000 and left $2,000 to his credit and is now supposed to be in Japan. The draft was issued by a bank at Woodland, Cal. Holmes is said to be an Eastern swindler.

RAILROAD COMMISSION RATES.

Judge McKenna Refuses a Continuance-Hearing Begins.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The question of the Railroad Commissioners' right to fix rates for the Southern Pacific Company came up again today in the United States Circuit Court. About the only point at issue is the fact that the commencement of the litigation is the right of the national government to intervene as creditor of the Central Pacific Company, whose lines form part of the Southern Pacific system.

Last Saturday the attorneys for the railroad filed an amended complaint, and today the attorneys for the commissioners asked that the amended complaint be stricken from the record if the case was to be proceeded with today. If admitted, a delay of two weeks was asked by the commission to permit time to consider it.

Judge McKenna today declared that there could be no further delays. Attorney Herrin, for the railroad, said that nothing new had been injected into the case in the amended complaint, which was merely a compilation or combination of points in the original complaint, designed to show the financial condition of the road in California as segregated from that portion of the road outside of the State.

Judge McKenna suggested that the amended complaint be withdrawn, but Herrin urged that it be allowed to remain on record, promising to make no use of it until the defense had ample time to familiarize themselves with its contents. The court said that, if the amendment were not withdrawn, he might not have the power to throw it out, but that he certainly could dissolve the temporary injunction granted the plaintiff to prevent the commission from enforcing the reduced freight rates.

As this rather pointed hint, Herrin, for the railroad company, withdrew the amended complaint and proceeded to open the case for the railroad by reading the original complaint. Then the court was asked to restrain the commission from enforcing the reductions, which, it was claimed, were ruinous to the traffic business of the road.

After concluding the reading of the complaint Mr. Herrin proceeded to support it by presenting to the court a number of affidavits signed by various officials of the Southern Pacific in regard to the business of the system. United States Attorney Foote then presented his amended bill of intervention, after which Atty-Gen. Fitzgerald read a lengthy affidavit from Chairman LaRue of the Railroad Commission, designed to controvert the statements which had been made on behalf of the Southern Pacific in reference to the condition of its business and the effect which the proposed reduction of rates would have.

The contest for Fair's Property. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The attorneys in the Fair will case thronged Superior Judge Sisk's courtroom today, expecting to hear a decision upon the validity of the trust clause. The court announced that the decision was in the course of preparation and would not be rendered for a week. The contest was postponed until February 3. Meanwhile the court will render a decision in the case brought by Charles L. Fair to quiet title to the Lick House, which involves the trust clause.

Old Man Thompson Wants to Die.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—Samuel Thompson, the old man charged with debauching little girls, made two desperate attempts to commit suicide last night, but failed. He was taken to the city hospital, where he is now lying. Thompson twisted his underclothes into the form of a rope and tried to hang himself. He was cut down by the guard and strapped to a cot, but getting loose, he turned on the gas to asphyxiate himself. His arrest seems to have affected his mind.

Visitors from other citrus-growing districts were greatly surprised at the size and beauty of the display. It is expected that the fair will have been an established feature of the midwinter festivities in this city.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Joe Vendig has arranged a finish fight between George Dixon and Jerry Marshall, which will be one of the features of Dan Stewart's big sporting carnival near El Paso next week. The action on the part of the company is the result of an old quarrel with ranchers who use the water.

BAY DISTRICT TRACK.

It Will Not Be Closed When Expected-Yesterday's Races.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The Bay District track will not be closed on March 1. Some time after the announcement was made that after the end of February the track would be no more racing at the old track and that after that date the California Jockey Club would conduct its meeting at Oakland, where the track is being expanded in fitting up the course and erecting a grandstand and other necessary buildings.

A street-railway company has let the grading of the Bay District property. They have three years in which to complete the work, and during that time it is less than two years, they have agreed not to disturb the race track for a year at least.

THE DAY'S SPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The biggest upset at the meeting occurred today at Bay District. The Elmwood stock farm's Victor, who defeated Libertine and other stake horses on Saturday in the remarkably fast time of 1:39, was in amongst a much inferior class today, and, although a 1-10 favorite, he was most disgracefully beaten, finishing a bad fourth in a field of five.

Alex. Shields' "iron horse" Logan, won the race by the scantiest of noses from Yo el Rey. The winner was 20 to 1. Yo el Rey, for whom Charles Fair paid $25,000 as a two-year-old, evinced a disposition to run for the first time in three years, and would have beaten Logan, Victor and Libertine, if he had not been so heavily-played second choice and a well-placed outsider.

The weather was fine and the track fast. The attendance was good. Seven furlongs: Gratify won, Joe K. second, time 1:37. Six furlongs: Red Glen won, Tim Murphy second, Toano third; time 1:14. One mile and a half: Red Root won, Articus second, Full third; time 2:36. One mile: Logan won, Yo el Rey second, Lismore third; time 1:40.

About six furlongs: Charles, Victor, and Libertine; time 1:31. Six furlongs: Seaspray won, Jack Atkins second, Don Gara third; time 1:41.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS OF DR. JAMESON'S DEFEAT.

The Dutch Advocate the Extension of Their Territory-Delayed Battles Show the Trend of Foreign Sentiment Prior to the Engagement.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 6.—(By South African Cable.) It is learned that, after Wednesday's fight, Dr. Jameson's column, originally about seven hundred men, moved southward, fighting hand all the way through the night, and eventually reached Vlakfontein, six miles from Johannesburg. Thursday morning, when the column was completely surrounded by 4000 Boers. In spite of this, Jameson's followers fought stubbornly until noon, when all their cartridges were exhausted. In addition, they had not tasted food for twenty-four hours, and were worn out. But the white flag was not hoisted by Jameson's orders.

It is known that Jameson expected 2000 Uitlanders to join him at Krugersdorp. The Dutch press is jubilant at this lowering of the British prestige, and advocates the incorporation of Rhodesia with the Transvaal Republic. EXCITEMENT REIGNED INTENSE.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Delayed dispatches from Johannesburg arriving today show that on Tuesday last there was intense excitement there, people hurrying into town from the mines and outlying country. The Central Committee constituted themselves a provisional government for the town and announced that ample provision would be made to defend it against any body of Boers. The provisional government was established in the Consolidated Gold-fields building, and three Maxim guns were placed in advantageous positions about it. The new government proclaimed its ultimatum to the government of President Kruger, who proposed a conference at Pretoria the following day, Wednesday. The committee hesitated to go to Pretoria without a conduct. Dr. Jameson at that time was hourly expected at Johannesburg.

Crowds surrounded the Consolidated Gold-fields building and the work of recruiting was in full swing. Numerous people left town during the night in bands of fifty each. Late in the evening sent the following communication to Sir Hercules Robinson, Governor of Cape Colony: "We have absolute information that a large party of Boers has been commanded to immediately attack Johannesburg and shoot on sight all who have been concerned in the agitation. We ask you to intervene to protect the lives of citizens who have long agitated legally their rights."

ALL SORTS OF RUMORS.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The statement cabled to the United States by the news agency that Dr. Jameson had been released from custody at Pretoria is utterly untrue. Without foundation. All sorts of rumors are in circulation, due to delay in receiving accurate news from Cape Colony. It is reported that the British government is hurrying troops from India to Cape town, but there would seem to be no necessity for such a step, as the concentration of military forces on the British African colonies could be quickly made there if necessary.

PRESSING FOR REFORMS.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—The following dispatch has been received from Johannesburg, dated January 2 at midnight. The central committee of the National Union is bitterly indignant at the terms which President Kruger has imposed and they declare that the position of the Uitlanders is in due solis to the imperial production of the Boer master Morrissey of the order, for the purpose of outlining the work for the year, and also for the purpose of preparing a new ritual for the order. Concerning this ritual the grand officers decline to speak at this time. Grand Master Dr. Jameson's former secretary, summoned by telegraph to Atlanta Ga., on business, and may be gone several days. The conference with the Boer masters was accordingly postponed, and they will remain here until his return. They have as yet taken no action, and will not until the grand master returns.

Fire caused the loss of two lives. The injury of one man and the destruction of two residences with their contents

A dispatch from Cape Town, January 6, to the Times says: "President Kruger has stopped the food supply into Johannesburg. The whole of the National Reform Committee has been arrested. Nobody is allowed to enter the Transvaal without a passport issued by Kruger."

It is stated that Dr. Leyds, the Secretary of State for the Transvaal, with a secret fund at his disposal, has induced 5000 German militia to settle in the Transvaal.

BEFORE THE BATTLE.

JOHANNESBURG (Midnight, not dated, and delayed in transmission).—The Germans and Americans were after unsatisfactory interviews with the government, have joined the National Union, which action was also taken by the Afrikaners, Australians and the Mercantile Association, the government having refused them arms protection purposes. The Uitlanders are now united and a body of their armed and mounted forces is parading the town and suburbs. Everything is quiet until noon, when the streets are thronged and the police were entirely withdrawn to Pretoria this afternoon.

Jameson has replied to the request of Commander Marco to withdraw, by saying that he intended proceeding with his original plans, which were not based on the people of Transvaal, adding: "We are here in reply to the invitation of the principal residents of the Rand to assist them in their demand for justice and the ordinary rights of every citizen of civilized States."

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES.

A dispatch from Buffalo, N. Y., says that the strike of the employees of the Western New York and Pennsylvania shops has been settled. The demands of the men were acceded to, except as the restoration of wages and they have returned to work.

A Plaquemine, La., dispatch says that on Sunday night the sugar house of Gen. William A. Schenck, a plantation caught fire in some mysterious manner, supposed to be incendiary, and together with about eight hundred barrels of sugar and a lot of molasses was entirely consumed. The loss was $50,000; insurance, $30,000.

A Dallas, Tex., dispatch says that two children, the sons of a family, were burned to death six miles south of Dallas Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lynch, who were at the house, were caught fire from some unknown cause. The children, it is believed, were asleep on the floor. One of the children was killed, the other was flying from the old-fashioned fireplace or grate.

While four workmen were being lowered into the shaft of Lake Vidler mine, near Shamokin, Pa., yesterday morning, the "billy" which balanced the elevator, and weighs about one ton, fell upon them, upon them with out warning. They were instantly killed. The names are: James Mervin, aged 23; Peter Roberts, 23; Patrick Lynch, and Peter Roberts, 23.

It is stated at Berlin that there is no truth in the report of Chancellor von Bismarck's resignation. The story originated in the fact that no ministers were present at the Emperor's audience to Dr. Leyds. The Berliner correspondent, who is a reliable authority, is highly pleased with the result of the imperial audience and forthwith dispatched a long telegram to his government at Pretoria.

A St. Louis dispatch says Special United States Indian Agent James G. Thompson, who has been accepted by Muskogee, I. T. He goes on orders from the Treasury Department to make a settlement of the $200,000 claim of the Cherokee-Belted against the United States. The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Plans for the tunneling of North Broadway from Temple to Buena Vista street were yesterday submitted by the City Engineer to the Council.

The other day it was reported that a man in Pasadena was married to a dying woman. Now the woman is getting well and it is the husband that is dangerously ill. Some romances take a peculiar turn.

A material change has been made in the new Police Station plans. Sandstone is to be used, instead of granite, for the building's front. It is claimed that sandstone resists the action of fire while granite is easily marred by flame.

The City Council is disinclined to reduce the municipal revenues by easing the burden of taxation. The petition of the real estate men for a repeal of the license ordinance, as it relates to their business, was yesterday "killed" by the City Fathers.

Another postponement has been made by the Council in the settlement of the oil-refining question. As in other branches of the oil-well industry, where a nuisance is alleged to exist, the matter will, no doubt, have to receive final adjudication in a court of law.

A few days ago the presidents of three trade organizations appointed each one a committee of five. These three committees were to meet Monday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce to discuss plans for charter revision. When the appointed hour came three members of the Chamber of Commerce showed up, and of the two other committees not a representative. This is a melancholy commentary upon American lack of civic pride.

The report of the cutting off of water from thousands of acres of highly improved citrus fruit ranches along the Sweetwater system by the San Diego Land & Town Company because ranchers refuse to pay the advanced rate of 75¢ an acre is an action which consumers regard as a high-handed outrage, and an effort to coerce them into doing what they believe the courts will protect them from doing. The ranchers propose to organize and fight the water company in the courts.

The modification of the Mexican tariff now desired by that government, if accomplished, ought to be of benefit to Southern California trade. The finance minister of the republic says: "The government has the subject in mind and has for some time past been engaged in devising the more urgent tariff modifications, with a view of encouraging the importation of articles and produce capable of heavy consumption without injuring national interests, and of determining the true cost and best classification of those foreign articles that are capable of competing with native products on a fair footing."

Appropos of the Venezuela question, there is displayed in the corridor of a photographer in the Temple Block a large and handsome photograph of Brig.-Gen. F. A. Last. Mr. Last is a gentleman who takes himself very seriously, and whose sense of humor has apparently not been better developed than that of the average Scotchman, who, as Sidney Smith says, needs a surgical operation to get a joke into his head. In the photograph referred to Mr. Last poses, in all the glory of his military uniform, with a medal on his manly breast and a highly ornate sword between his legs. He has his finger on a map, presumably of Venezuela, upon which he gazes with a stern and forbidding aspect. It may now reasonably be asserted that the country is safe, at least, that section of the country which is under the military protection of Gen. Last.

The chances are that some most opportune circumstances will prevent the consummation of Prof. Tyndall's consuming desire to be buried alive, and thus gain either lasting fame or a pair of misfit angel's wings. If the mystic really intended the ante-mortem interment to take place, he should have engaged the grave-digger and then made sure that his "committee" would carry out the outlined programme without fear of consequences, even though the English disciple of the East Indian adepts had neglected to provide funds for buying the wax and oleomargarine with which to smear his remains previous to interment. Prof. Alphabet Tyndall could not have been ignorant of the fact that law officers would be on the alert for any overt act of manslaughter as well as violations of the ordinance regulating the burial of remains, but at the eleventh hour his wife appears upon the scene to beg the law's interposition in the sacrifice to science. According to the latest bulletins from the bedside of the cataleptic professor, his condition was so near normal as to indicate that he will not be dead enough to bury at 7 a.m. today.

TYNDALL'S TRANCE.

HE IS GETTING READY FOR HIS ANTE-MORTEM BURIAL.

Chances are that the Committee Will "Fail" before the Last Moment and Fail to Perform Their Part—The Mystic's Wife.

The obsequies of Prof. J. Alexander Mcivor Tyndall are scheduled to take place at 7 o'clock this morning, but it's dollars to doughnuts that they will not materialize. The fault will either be the professor's failure to be dead enough to be put under ground or the burial committee's backdown in carrying out the arrangements. At 10 o'clock last night all of the committee but three had "funked," and these three people were all at sea in regard to their plans, and indeed seemed to wish they had nothing to do with the uncanny business. The three lone watchers were Press Agent Moore, Dr. Bennett and Gen. H. A. Pierce. Gen. Pierce frankly said to Times reporter that he would not help to bury a man who was not dead, and he would not help to seal up a spark of life appeared to remain in the body. The general emphatically hinted that he would not help to seal up the professor's body while there were visible signs of respiration, circulation and animal heat. In other words, Gen. Pierce wished a committee of competent physicians to pronounce the professor dead, before he helped to bury him. Press Agent Moore also expressed his opinion, and said he would have nothing to do with the interment if the persons having an interest in the case were to be prosecuted for manslaughter in case the victim failed to rise from the grave on schedule time. Dr. Bennett did not seem to know exactly what the professor was, but was willing to do his part as a watcher.

Tyndall lay stretched out on a bed all day yesterday, as rigid as a bone. His eyes were binned with a silk handkerchief, but he had no covering save an abbreviated night shirt, which did not cover the nakedness of his nether limbs, farther than halfway between the hips and knees. His head was bent back, and only the heaving of his chest indicated that he was alive. There was a crush of visitors all day to see how he was getting along, and a great many people were admitted to the room. The committee said that this had a very deleterious effect on the patient, and retarded the process of suspending animation. A peculiarity about the patient's condition was that he never twitched a muscle, how much he was handled. If a leg or arm was raised it remained in the position in which it was placed, and it required considerable force to put it back to its original position. If persons of strong magnetic qualities touched a leg or an arm it would rise and follow the guiding hand. "Prof." Bell could stand at the foot of the bed and raise Tyndall by his magnetic power, so it was alleged by one of the attendants.

At 3 p.m. the cataleptic's pulse had gotten down to 44, but members of the committee did not rise again, owing to non-observance of instructions. Too many people were admitted to see him, and some of these very much disturbed Tyndall. For instance, about 6 o'clock, an alleged M.D. came to the room and asked admittance, as he was going to leave the city and had a burning desire to see the patient before he left. He was admitted and immediately began to punch the patient in the ribs to observe the effect on his quiescent condition. The result was that re-animation set in rapidly, and it was with some difficulty that the alleged doctor, who was found to be intoxicated, was ejected from the room.

At 8 p.m. Tyndall's pulse was 54; at 9 p.m. it was 64; at 10:30 p.m. it had dropped to 51. His temperature at the same time was 96.4-5. Many curious people lingered in the corridors of the Ramona Hotel during the evening, anxious to see the man in a trance but none were admitted. "Prof." Bell was on hand and entertained a group of women with tales of various subjects. He still professed to be opposed to the experiment of burying his friend, Tyndall, alive. The "professor" is improving all his opportunities.

Up to midnight not a shovel of dirt had been turned for the making of Tyndall's grave. Police Sergeant Smith viewed the ground in the afternoon but the grave-digger was not in evidence. The burial committee is to convene at 8 o'clock this morning to decide upon what is to be done, but as none appears anxious to take the initiative, chances are that when the house of burial arrives, even though the patient should be dead enough to be waxed and buttered, none will be found bold enough to perform the operation. Tyndall's instructions are that as soon as he appears to have suspended all animation, all the officers of his body shall be sealed with the purest beeswax, his body bathed with the purest paraffin and then be buried into his shroud and coffin and be planted underground with as little delay as possible.

Chief of Police Glass received a telegram last evening from Mrs. J. Alexander Tyndall at San Francisco requesting him to prevent the burial of her husband alive. The chief has not declared his intention in the matter, but the fact that some of his officers have been keeping a close eye on developments at the Hotel Ramona and have looked over the ground where the grave of the mystic was to be dug, is significant that the chief will be in at the death if it really occurs.

Shortly before midnight Dr. J. Schmitts of No. 3203 South Main street joined the watchers and remained the rest of the night. At 2 a.m. Dr. Schmitts made an examination of the patient and found that his pulse had risen to 55; his temperature was 96, and respiration, 15. At this announcement of the lively tendencies of the would-be corpse, the burial committee gaily shook their heads and guessed that the experiment would have to be given up. However, they resolved that they would not go home till morning, and would, in the mean time, continue their vigil by the bedside of the man in a trance. At 3 a.m. one of the committee stated that there was no doubt that the burial project would have to be given up, and would be made at 7 o'clock to raise the victim from his trance. The general verdict of the committee was that the failure of Tyndall to enter into a perfect cataleptic state was due to the noise and presence of visitors. During the night he was seen to move his hands slightly and grip once or twice, a thing that a well-behaved corpse would not do. All these things conspired to induce the committee to call the funeral off.

Secord of Highland. Mr. Yerkes picked out the oranges which took the first prize at the last Citrus Fair. Encouraged by this success he prepared another box of oranges for the Atlanta Exposition, and that too, carried off the honors. Lee McConnell contributed some fine Washington navel, and some King of Siam oranges. The latter have a curiously rough and wrinkled skin, and a distinctive flavor. These oranges were raised at Lindsay, Tulare county.

WYNN-SHELLON.

A Runaway Marriage Under Romantic Circumstances.

Another bride and groom have been joined in the holy bonds of matrimony, and the event was so unexpected, and so quickly done that the friends of the happy pair are still gasping for breath and rubbing their eyes and wondering if it is really so.

Miss Maud Wynn is a Kentucky girl who has been living in Los Angeles with her mother and her brother for some little time. Of late the family have occupied a flat at No. 577 South Broadway.

Miss Wynn ended her school days a year ago last June. She is well educated and bright, and exceedingly pretty—a graceful girl, with big blue eyes and golden hair. There was a friend of the family, a lumberman from Arizona, possessed of considerable means, but many years older than Miss Wynn, whom Mrs. Wynn had picked out as a husband for her daughter. He was an estimable man in every way, and deeply enamored of Miss Wynn, yet she failed to reciprocate his affections.

But Mrs. Wynn's heart was set on the match. She talked continually to her daughter of the great opportunity offered her—she praised the favored suitor to the skies. She laboriously expounded the Northern farmer's philosophy: "Ye need no marry for money. But marry where money is!"

At last Miss Wynn suffered herself to be convinced and plighted her troth to the lumberman. A year went by, and the marriage had not yet occurred. Her fiancé was able to spend but little time in Los Angeles, as his business kept him in Arizona. But about two weeks ago came to Los Angeles and asked Miss Wynn if she were not yet ready to fulfill her promise.

But during all this year Miss Wynn had been much with Arthur Shelton, a young man who has been with Gordon, the tailor, and who yet decided to go into business for himself. He is handsome and agreeable, and Miss Wynn found him very congenial. When she thought of her approaching marriage, and thought of the other man in the case, she at last realized her own feelings in the matter. So, three days ago, Miss Wynn and Mr. Shelton made up their minds to get married and quietly departed. Mr. Shelton started off on their wedding trip. They went to Port Los Angeles and there boarded the steamer Mexico for San Francisco, where they will stay until the atmosphere in Los Angeles has calmed down.

Toward evening Mrs. Wynn came home. Her daughter was not there, but Mrs. Wynn supposed that she had merely gone somewhere for a little while. Then she found a little note which her daughter had left behind her, and read it, and burst into tears. When she last evening, Mrs. Wynn and her son talked to discuss the matter at all. Mrs. Wynn was re-ayed with weeping and her son very much wrought up over the affair, but both members of the family maintained entire silence upon the all-absorbing topic, except to breathe dire threats against the newspaper that should dare to print anything about the romance.

PASADENA ORDINANCES.

They are Being Violated Every Day.

Some Way.

The Pasadena ordinance against gambling, which is being violated daily within a stone's throw of Colorado street, and within sight and hearing of almost anybody who has interest enough in the subject to make casual investigation, declares that any place where games of chance with dice, cards and the like are played, is within the meaning of the ordinance.

Another ordinance which has not been observed in Pasadena for a year at least, is that which declares that any persons adjudged guilty of misdemeanor and given sentence to the City Jail, are eligible to perform work on the public works of any nature in Pasadena, and that the City Marshal has the power and right to take any and all such persons from the City Jail and put them to work.

The question raised by the Council in the meeting of a fortnight ago whether the City had the right to make persons convicted of being drunk and disorderly work in the stone-yard, is settled by the language of the ordinance.

RESTAURANT MAN WANTED.

John Neal Has Gone Away to Be Married.

John Neal left Pasadena early Sunday morning with the expressed intention of marrying one Rachael Dehougue, which ceremony, it is alleged, has not been performed, so far as can be learned.

In August, W. H. Robinson, the owner of the Saddle Rock restaurant on Fair Oaks avenue, leased the place to his former chef, John Neal, with the understanding that he was to receive a share of Neal's profits, a percentage basis being fixed.

Of late, it is asserted, Neal and Robinson have not agreed, and for some time Neal has been making a business, but has paid no bills, staying his creditors with various stories of time pocketing all the money taken in.

The place was exceedingly prosperous, and Neal carried with him enough to enable him to live happily with his new spouse for some time.

His creditors, whose name is legion, are left to mourn his departure. The bills so far that have been presented to him are for $47, and among the prominent creditors are Harry Munger, John Gorman, Breiner & Crosby and Jacob Bluck, who are represented in the attachment made today by Constable Blaker.

All of the former employees of the restaurant, except the head waiter, were left out in the cold in the matter of wages, as he owes them from one to four weeks' back pay.

The Saddle Rock is the restaurant in Pasadena from the fact that its proprietors have been twice heavily fined for violation of the liquor ordinance.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6, 1896.

BANK CLEARINGS. Bankstreets recently published a list showing the clearing of the principal cities of the country for eleven months of 1892, 1893, 1894 and 1895. Los Angeles makes a remarkable showing among the cities of the Pacific Coast, the figures of which are given as follows for eleven months of 1892 and 1895:

1892. San Francisco $23,704,572; Los Angeles $1,371,272; Denver $1,038,942; Portland $1,038,942; Tacoma $1,038,942; Seattle $1,038,942.

It will be noticed that Los Angeles is the only city among these six which shows an increase over 1892. In fact, the only city which shows a large decrease, on an average of about 50 per cent, for the cities outside of San Francisco, is a decrease of over $100,000,000 for San Francisco, while Los Angeles shows an increase of more than 50 per cent.

These figures are not, however, not to fall to attract attention among capitalists and investors throughout the country, who take close notes of these bank clearings, and who are constantly on the alert for any indication of the financial condition of a community. If the clearings of Los Angeles were reckoned as many other cities reckon their figures, they would still more favorably than they are.

THE WINE TRADE. While the price of raisins is looking up, a good many vineyardists are seriously contemplating the advisability of digging up their vineyards, the opposite is true in regard to the wine industry, the outlook for which has not been brighter for many years than it is today.

This improvement has been brought about solely by the organization of growers and dealers in the northern part of the State, and furnishes another striking object-lesson of the advantages of co-operation, which is being carried out in practical and business-like manner. It now appears probable that California wines will soon take their proper position in the markets of the world, which they have so long been excluded by lack of combination among growers on the one hand and fraudulent labeling to the disadvantage of European brands on the other.

The Grocery World gives three good reasons why the general wine trade should continue to look up in the United States. The first is the lowering of the tariffs on wine in Canada. The second is the passing of the hard times, which have been an obstacle to the consumption of articles that are not of prime necessity, and this is still the case with wine in America.

The third is the growing up of Americans, which has doubled in the past forty years, and now reaches three and one-half times the number of the United States annually.

American statistics indicate a yearly consumption of more than 25,000,000 gallons of wine in the United States. This is small in comparison with the consumption of countries on the continent of Europe. There are many who believe that the cause of temperance would be much advanced in this country if these high native wines could be more generally substituted for the foreign ones.

This connection it may be asked why a majority of the retail liquor establishments refuse to take California wine, which is sold at a lower price than the foreign wine, and steps taken to have all side walks on South Main avenue so constructed.

George W. Stinson presented two claims for rebate on taxes, which were allowed. W. C. Dent's claim for rebate was also allowed, but that of W. B. Pears-1.75.

General Business Topics. TO ENCOURAGE MINING. The inauguration of the new gold-mining exchange, which was recently opened in San Francisco, is likely to be a most important era in the mining development of the State, in case the promises of the projectors of the enterprise are carried out. In its preliminary report, it makes the following statement in regard to the purpose for which it was organized:

"For nearly fifty years the search for gold has been a matter of mere speculation. The efforts of the prospector and the efforts of the capitalist of this State have been largely unproductive. The recognition of the value of the gold-mining industry has been a matter of mere speculation. OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6, 1896.

BANK CLEARINGS. Bankstreets recently published a list showing the clearing of the principal cities of the country for eleven months of 1892, 1893, 1894 and 1895. Los Angeles makes a remarkable showing among the cities of the Pacific Coast, the figures of which are given as follows for eleven months of 1892 and 1895:

1892. San Francisco $23,704,572; Los Angeles $1,371,272; Denver $1,038,942; Portland $1,038,942; Tacoma $1,038,942; Seattle $1,038,942.

It will be noticed that Los Angeles is the only city among these six which shows an increase over 1892. In fact, the only city which shows a large decrease, on an average of about 50 per cent, for the cities outside of San Francisco, is a decrease of over $100,000,000 for San Francisco, while Los Angeles shows an increase of more than 50 per cent.

These figures are not, however, not to fall to attract attention among capitalists and investors throughout the country, who take close notes of these bank clearings, and who are constantly on the alert for any indication of the financial condition of a community. If the clearings of Los Angeles were reckoned as many other cities reckon their figures, they would still more favorably than they are.

THE WINE TRADE. While the price of raisins is looking up, a good many vineyardists are seriously contemplating the advisability of digging up their vineyards, the opposite is true in regard to the wine industry, the outlook for which has not been brighter for many years than it is today.

This improvement has been brought about solely by the organization of growers and dealers in the northern part of the State, and furnishes another striking object-lesson of the advantages of co-operation, which is being carried out in practical and business-like manner. It now appears probable that California wines will soon take their proper position in the markets of the world, which they have so long been excluded by lack of combination among growers on the one hand and fraudulent labeling to the disadvantage of European brands on the other.

The Grocery World gives three good reasons why the general wine trade should continue to look up in the United States. The first is the lowering of the tariffs on wine in Canada. The second is the passing of the hard times, which have been an obstacle to the consumption of articles that are not of prime necessity, and this is still the case with wine in America.

The third is the growing up of Americans, which has doubled in the past forty years, and now reaches three and one-half times the number of the United States annually.

American statistics indicate a yearly consumption of more than 25,000,000 gallons of wine in the United States. This is small in comparison with the consumption of countries on the continent of Europe. There are many who believe that the cause of temperance would be much advanced in this country if these high native wines could be more generally substituted for the foreign ones.

This connection it may be asked why a majority of the retail liquor establishments refuse to take California wine, which is sold at a lower price than the foreign wine, and steps taken to have all side walks on South Main avenue so constructed.

George W. Stinson presented two claims for rebate on taxes, which were allowed. W. C. Dent's claim for rebate was also allowed, but that of W. B. Pears-1.75.

General Business Topics. TO ENCOURAGE MINING. The inauguration of the new gold-mining exchange, which was recently opened in San Francisco, is likely to be a most important era in the mining development of the State, in case the promises of the projectors of the enterprise are carried out. In its preliminary report, it makes the following statement in regard to the purpose for which it was organized:

"For nearly fifty years the search for gold has been a matter of mere speculation. The efforts of the prospector and the efforts of the capitalist of this State have been largely unproductive. GRAHAM AND KERRIGAN.

They are Well Known to the San Francisco Police.

Speaking of the recent arrest in this city of Nig Graham and Fred Forest for burglary, and their pair, Ed. Kerrigan, for receiving stolen property, the San Francisco Chronicle says:

"Nig Graham is well known by Capt. Lees and his men. He first came to the notice of the police a number of years ago, when he was caught picking a woman's pocket on Market street."

On account of his youth he was sent to the Industrial School. After his release Graham launched out as a burglar, and was finally caught with considerable stolen property in his possession. He was tried, convicted and sent to Folsom for six years.

"Shortly afterward Sidney Bell was arrested for the murder of Samuel Jacobson and Graham volunteered to establish an alibi for the accused man. He was brought from the penitentiary and during the trial of the robber he swore that he and Bell were visiting friends at the time of the murder."

After being discharged from Folsom Graham returned to this city and committed several crimes. He was arrested but escaped conviction for want of evidence.

"Later he went East and was caught while robbing a house in New York city. He was sent to prison for a short term, and was discharged about a year ago."

ago. He immediately returned to this State and committed a number of burglaries in the interior. From there he went to Los Angeles, where he was finally captured after a series of daring robberies.

"Kerrigan, the go-between for Graham and Forest, has a local record. He was arrested here several months ago for vagrancy, but was allowed to go on his promise to leave the city. He immediately went to Los Angeles, where it is supposed he joined the Graham-Forest gang of burglars."

"The police here deny that they have found any of the property stolen by the gang. They were informed that some of the stuff had been shipped to this city, but were unable to locate it."

NO CHANGES MADE.

Board of Education Officials are to Succeed Themselves.

There will be no changes in the Board of Education committees for 1896.

At the annual election of officers last evening, President Hale received enough votes to make him president of the board for another year.

There was opposition in the balloting by a small but determined minority that cast its voting strength for Director Kennedy. But the "solid six," which includes Directors Hale, Bassett, Simon, Pitman, Kennedy and Grubb, needed only one ballot to settle the election. When the ballot was taken President Hale had the votes of the entire six.

The election for secretary brought a unanimous vote for C. P. Dandy, the present incumbent. No other candidate for the position was mentioned.

Before an adjournment was taken, Director Garland suggested that in the appointing of committees the President should appoint no member to serve on both the Supply Committee and the Finance Committee, and thus prevent the possibility of a committee auditing and approving its own purchases.

Director Simon presented for the consideration of the board a statement from the Finance Committee showing the money received by the board in 1895 and the disposition made of them.

DELLA'S JEWELS.

A New Indictment in the Mayne Case.

Another move was attempted yesterday in Mayne's behalf and another lawyer has appeared upon the scene.

This time it is Lawyer T. W. Van Sciever, who was lately released from the County Jail and who was an intimate of Mayne's while there.

It appears that the little girl, Della Shipton, had several pieces of false jewelry given her by Mayne, which she, upon discovering his motives, turned over to her sister, and it is the possession of these that Van Sciever is after. It is known that the child has a fondness for jewelry, and is given to worldly display, and it is claimed that she was promised the return of the jewelry upon signing a retraction of her testimony. This she refused to do, and now that she is coming, and now that she is becoming refractory and is perhaps to be used again, a play was made to recover the jewelry.

Armed with a note purporting to be signed by Miss Della, but written on note paper of Mayne's and with an indelible pencil, invariably used by him, Van Sciever assailed Wright at his office and demanded the jewels. He was referred to the District Attorney's office. He was told that they wish to retain the jewels as an exhibit. This did not satisfy Lawyer Van Sciever, and he demanded to know the rights in the matter, but receiving no satisfaction from Wright he hobbled off, muttering threats of replevin, suits to recover.

It now appears that the jewels are in the hands of Constable Harry Johnston, having been handed to him for safe-keeping when the fact became known that they were to be used as a bribe to urge Della to sign her last affidavit. Johnston is quoted as saying that he will play "hide and seek" with Mr. Van Sciever.

It is reported that Mayne's lawyers are in San Francisco working on the Chris Buckley scheme. It is also said they have taken the girl Della North with them.

Fiesta Matters.

The Executive Committee of the fiesta is working vigorously. Its members were in session for two hours yesterday afternoon, and transacted a large amount of business, mostly routine in character. The contracts for advertising during February and March were closed. There will be from a quarter to half a page in Harper's, Century, Scribner, Cosmopolitan, McClure's, Forum, North American Review, and Review of Reviews. A great number of cards are to be printed containing condensed and interesting facts about Los Angeles and the fiesta. A little later will be printed a small pamphlet, full of information of the same character. These will be scattered broadcast over the country. A contribution of $100 from Meyer Bros. was reported.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knott wish to offer their heartfelt thanks to the neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted them during the late illness and at the burial of their little son, Leo.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

How Christmas Day Was Observed at Capitran.

The Historical Society held a meeting in Judge Munson's courtroom last evening. President Baxter called the meeting to order and after a few remarks introduced the president-elect, Prof. Foley. President Foley made a short address full of valuable suggestions for the upbuilding of the society. The secretary, J. M. Gunn, made his annual report. The society's publications have been favorably received abroad. He had recently received a request for a full set of them from the Royal College of Belles Lettres of Stockholm, Sweden, and had received in exchange from the college a valuable set of its publications. He had also received an order from a publisher in Paris, France, and this week a request from the secretary of the state of the Dominion of Canada for a set. While the society's publications are in demand abroad and are valued by leading historical and literary societies, the society's members are in demand here and are making pretensions to literature never read them or take any interest in the history of our city or State.

Prof. Foley read an interesting paper on "What Can Be Seen at Capitran." Capitran, although a town of few houses, is unique and unlike other towns of Southern California. It still retains some of the old customs, but the old customs are passing away so rapidly that they will soon be known only by tradition. He described the Christmas festivities. First came a feast, then at midnight began a fearful racket, the firing of anvils, rifles, shotguns and pistols. This was kept up until morning. At high noon there was a wedding, and it was the oddest wedding the speaker had ever seen. The father-in-law was ubiquitous and welcomed all to the wedding feast. Then came a wrestling match after the Spanish style, only the old men taking part. When the wrestling ceased the dancing began, and here again the old men were in evidence. The younger generation have adopted American customs and it is only among the older people that the customs of the past are to be found.

The paper was appreciated. Mrs. Williamson gave an account of the progress of oyster-growing at Altimas Bay. The society decided to hold its next meeting at Pasadena.

It now appears that the jewels are in the hands of Constable Harry Johnston, having been handed to him for safe-keeping when the fact became known that they were to be used as a bribe to urge Della to sign her last affidavit. Johnston is quoted as saying that he will play "hide and seek" with Mr. Van Sciever.

It is reported that Mayne's lawyers are in San Francisco working on the Chris Buckley scheme. It is also said they have taken the girl Della North with them.

Armed with a note purporting to be signed by Miss Della, but written on note paper of Mayne's and with an indelible pencil, invariably used by him, Van Sciever assailed Wright at his office and demanded the jewels. He was referred to the District Attorney's office. He was told that they wish to retain the jewels as an exhibit. This did not satisfy Lawyer Van Sciever, and he demanded to know the rights in the matter, but receiving no satisfaction from Wright he hobbled off, muttering threats of replevin, suits to recover.
